Blackeducation.com is a black-owned media platform, with a heavy focus on raising awareness within communities around the world on the importance of Black Education and Economics, with a particular focus on communities from the African Diaspora. Blackeducation.com is a hub for free educational resources for all ages and all ethnicities. It aims to provide something for everyone. Owned and operated by Black Education CIC, a registered non-profit based in London, UK. It provides its global community with editorial articles in the free Black Encyclopaedia blog and an array of educational resources and directory services. These include educational toolkits, a directory for mentors, tutors, online courses, recommended books and a black-owned business directory. With a moderated social forum, readers can have interactive discussion and share views on important matters faced by the community. The mission at Black Education CIC is to engage these communities and reassemble the bridge between economic power and education.

#Blackeducationmatters because it literally changes the narrative about economic opportunity and equality for all.

Success starts with education. Success may look different for everyone, but in order to succeed in a capitalist world we have to become educated on what capitalism is, in terms of the psychology behind it, the economics, the systemic structure, the history and the culture. It is important not to get lost in the past, but 'embrace history, celebrate culture while focusing on the future'. Blackeducation.com aims to provide the community with knowledge and tools to achieve success.

The Black Education charity projects serve hard to reach communities, fundraising to provide computers, routers and equipment to ensure that even those less privileged can connect and have access to online education. The Black Education scholarship fund supports students working towards professional careers. Black Education CIC are also the host of BlackEdFest (The Black Education Festival) celebrating the education of the world's African diaspora; and the operators of blackeducation.shop, an online marketplace showcasing black creators, designers and artists' products.
